

"Dramanon have worked on several Health and Safety Awareness Days throughout 2003 - 2007 aimed at managers of building companies across the country, organised by HSE's Working Well Together Campaign and industry partners.

Their innovative and imaginative approach to communicating key messages has proved very successful and feedback from delegates has been extremely positive.

Dramanon personnel have always been professional, receptive and supportive, and we look forward to seeing them at our events throughout 2006 - 2007."
